Capt. Herbert J. Hartman, associate professor of engineering, came to Potomac State in the fall of 1967 after retiring from the Engineering Corps of the U. S. Navy with the rank of Captain.

Capt. Hartman is married to the former Helen Tyrell of Keyser, and plans to remain in Keyser upon retirement and be active in various community development projects.

Capt. Hartman is the father of three children: Richard, who earned his Ph.D. in Chemistry from Ohio State and is a research chemist with the 3-M Corporation in St. Paul, Minn.; Margaret Jane, who earned her Ph.D. in Biology from Oregon State University in Los Angeles; and David Scott, who received his MD from UCLA and is in his second year of residency at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Professor Paul F. Iverson, chairman of the Mathematics Department, came to Potomac State in 1946 and is a native of Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

As an ordained Presbyterian minister, he has been a frequent supply pastor at area churches. He is a past president of Kiwanis and was chairman of the New Creek Water Shed Study Committee, whose work led to the construction of some 14 area dams.

A member of a number of professional organizations, he is listed in "Who's Who in the East and in the Mid-West."

He is married to the former Helen Perry and they have two daughters: Paula, a graduate of Smith College and the University of California at Berkeley, now works for the Berkeley (Calif.) municipal government; Portia, a graduate of Colby College, Waterville, Maine, is on the staff of Congressman Kenneth Heckler of West Virginia.

Professor Iverson says that retirement means he and his wife will return to Nebraska to restore their country home located some 17 miles south of Omaha, Nebraska.

Marion Frances Rolls retired earlier this year after having been employed by the college since 1967.

Marion is an auxiliary member of the Washington-Smith Post 152, American Legion, and a member of the Janes Methodist Church. She has one daughter, Gilda Brooks, a nurse at Memorial Hospital in Cumberland, Maryland

Mrs. Rolls has worked for three different executive heads of the College.

Wilbur P. Dawson began working at Potomac State part-time in 1949, while also working at the Celanese Corporation. In 1957 he began working full-time as a custodian at the college. He will be retiring this spring one week after Commencement.

Louise, his wife, is also employed at Potomac State in the Student Union. They have two children: Barbara L. Buchan, Southampton, England; and John G., who is married and is a counselor for W. Va. State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency.

Lavinia T. Hamilton began working for Potomac State as a part-time kitchen assistant from 1949-54. She returned in 1963 and has worked full-time in the same position since then.

Mrs. Hamilton is a member of the Methodist Church and is an active member of the Washington-Smith Post 152, American Legion auxiliary and the Potomac Valley Rescue Squad.

She has two children: Gilbert, who is a sergeant in the Air Force stationed in Alaska, and is married and has two children; and Mrs. Mary Morgan, a step-daughter, who lives in Morgantown.
